Fair Board Action Gets DiSalle Veto

By DUANE E. CROFT
Salem News Staff Writer

COLUMBUS — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle vetoed Monday afternoon a bill to permit members and employees of county fair boards to serve simultaneously in public offices.

Co-sponsored by Columbiana County's two representatives, Republicans Clarence L. Wetzel and J. Warren Bettis, the measure seeks to reverse a 1959 ruling by the attorney general that fair board posts are incompatible with the office of county commissioner.

Columbiana County Commissioner Galen Greenisen, a Republican, was forced to resign from the county fair board because of the attorney general's opinion.

In his veto message, DiSalle said he agrees with Atty. Gen. Max McElroy that the posts are incompatible and therefore should not be held by one person. He said this stand derives from the fact the county commissioners appropriate funds and control many other functions of the county agricultural society.

"When an elected or appointed official, by virtue of his office, is placed in a position where he deals with himself, representing in one capacity the citizens of a county or the state and then in another position seeks to represent an organization that may benefit by this representation at the expense of the citizens that he is sworn to represent, then it would be incongruous for the legislature to be able to say that these positions are compatible," DiSalle said.

"Let us picture the fair manager on one side of the desk urging the county commissioners for an increased appropriation for the fair, then running around to the other side of the desk and voting on his request... which interest does he serve if he serves in both capacities?"

The governor added that he sees no need for the legislation because "there is no shortage of candidates for county commissioner nor is there a shortage of interested individuals to accept positions" with county fairs and agricultural societies.

The bill passed the house 122-1 and won unanimous approval in the senate. To become law over the veto, it must be passed again with at least 84 votes in the house and 23 votes in the senate.

Two Teachers Turn In Resignations

The Salem Board of Education at a meeting Monday night accepted the resignations of two senior high school teachers.

Resigning, effective Friday, are Sebastian La Spina, biology teacher and assistant football and track coach; and Mrs. Adele Zeitler, English teacher.

Supt. Paul E. Smith's recommendation for the employment and approval of salaries of 42 non-certified personnel for the 1961-62 school year was accepted by the board.

Three school custodians included on this year's list of non-certified personnel were not rehired for 1961-62. One of these, Fred Roth, custodian at Prospect School, attended last night's meeting and spoke on his own behalf.

In other action, the board voted to borrow $45,000 to meet the June 15 payroll.

Two parents of students at Reilly School spoke at the meeting last night and urged that a proposal by Supt. Smith to eliminate two teaching positions at that school next year not be carried out.

Mrs. William Wright Jr., and Kenneth Pelley, president of the Reilly School PTA, both stated that they believe it would be a mistake to drop teachers at the second and third grade levels since it would increase the number of students in the remaining second and third grade classes at the school.

Mrs. Wright pointed out that if one of the four second grade classes is eliminated at Reilly next year, this would leave two classes with 33 pupils and another with 32. Supt. Smith noted that this would give Reilly the largest second grade classes in the city school system.

A cut of one teacher at the third grade level would leave Reilly with two classes of 32 pupils and one with 33.

"I think this is too many students at the second and third grade levels," Mrs. Wright remarked.

Supt. Smith pointed out that it is his responsibility to decide how to best utilize the teaching staff and stay within the budget.

The superintendent said that there is no definite proof that a child would be penalized if he is placed in a class with as many as 32 pupils. He did state, though, that wherever possible, he would prefer to keep grades one, two and three from getting too large.

Supt. Smith said that Chester Brautigam, principal at Reilly, also has strongly recommended that the two teaching positions in question not be abolished.

The superintendent stated that plans to eliminate the two classes are tentative and that there still is a chance that teachers will be hired to fill the positions.

A letter from John Herman Jr., president of the Salem Junior Baseball program, was read to the board. The letter stated that the Hot Stove Leagues have withdrawn their request to use the baseball field at Salem Senior High School.

Herman said the request was withdrawn because of a lack of cooperation from residents on E. 6th St. near the school and in the cause of good public relations.

The board had received a petition signed by 22 residents on the E. 6th St. asking that the Junior Baseball Leagues not be permitted to use the school field.

Commissioners Wreck Camp Plan, Tobin Says

Juvenile Court Judge Louis Tobin disclosed today that 65 county organizations have approved his plan for establishment of a county work camp for juvenile offenders. But he noted that opposition of the two Republican county commissioners virtually wrecks chances for its construction.

The Fraternal Order of Police and FOP Associates of East Liverpool have offered to donate a 28-acre tract of land on Rt. 30 at Rock Camp for youth camp purposes.

The next step, the judge said, would be to estimate the costs of construction and place the issue on the ballot.

"However," he said, "I have found out recently that Commissioners Walter A. Hunston and Galen Greenisen, the majority of the Board of County Commis-

Saturn Launching Site Is Completed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Construction has been completed on the launching site from which early Saturn space vehicles will be fired.

The super rocket, which will generate 1½ million pounds of thrust on liftoff, is Americas best hope of overtaking the Soviet lead in the space race.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration dedicated the $11-million facility Monday, accepting it from the Army Corps of Engineers in a brief ceremony.

Engineers supervised the two-year building program for the massive 45-acre complex, whose centerpiece is a service tower which is as tall as a 30-story building.

Scientists and technicians now will prepare the ground support and launch control equipment for the first experimental Saturn firing, set for next fall.

Dr. Kurt Debus, head of NASA's launch operations directorate, called the complex "the first launch point for the world's greatest rocket."

"Saturn," he said, "will be the workhorse booster for many exciting space experiments planned in the next decade."

"The main application of the Saturn launch vehicle will be man into space. Not too many years hence, three astronauts will be blazing toward an orbit about the moon atop the mighty Saturn."

The early Saturn C1 vehicle will be fired from this launch pad. A second stage will be added later, giving the rocket capability of placing 10-ton payloads into earth orbit.

A second Saturn launch complex will be built here to handle the advanced C2 vehicle, which will have considerably more power and twice the payload capability.

This nation's present largest space booster is the Atlas, which has 360,000 pounds of thrust. Estimated thrust of the Soviet space rockets ranges from 800,000 to one million pounds.

Bloodmobile Visit Scheduled Thursday

A total of 73 more donors are needed for Thursday's visit of the Red Cross bloodmobile at the First Methodist Church. The hours are from 1 to 7 p.m.

One hundred and six persons have signed up, but it is necessary to have 180 registered donors to insure making the quota of 125 pints. Louis Raymond, chairman of North Columbiana County Red Cross blood program, reports that some people don't keep their appointments and some are deferred because of physical reasons.

In order to maintain the bloodmobile in this area, the goal must be reached, according to Mr. Raymond. Appointments may be made at the Red Cross office.

The women of the Winona Methodist Church will furnish a and serve food to the donors.

Assassins Held Family Hostage

Dominican Doctor Tells Of Ordeal

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—A young doctor said four of those who plotted dictator Rafael Trujillo's assassination held him and his family hostage for four days until hunger drove them out of hiding.

Dr. Robert Reid Cabral said his home was commandeered by the four fugitives shortly after Trujillo was gunned down last Tuesday night.

Reid Cabral said he, his pregnant wife and their infant son were held hostages until Sunday, the fugitives, desperate for food and cigarettes, came out of hiding.

Leader of the group and alleged mastermind of the assassination was retired Gen. Juan Tomas Diaz, 52.

Reid Cabral told this story: After the Trujillo slaying, Diaz and his accomplices went to the office of another physician, Dr. Marcelino Velez, to get treatment for a bullet wound.

The men threatened Velez unless he found them a hiding place and he took them to Reid Cabral's home. When Reid Cabral opened the door, Diaz and Antonio de la Maza forced their way in with guns drawn. Later two other fugitives moved in.

Reid Cabral said the fugitives tried to get him to relay word to a person identified only as "wimpy" to tell Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt that "the tyrant is dead."

Wimpy was to try to drum up support in Latin America for the Dominican Revolutionary Movement, the country's opposition party. Reid Cabral refused to relay the information, despite threats to liquidate him and his family.

Two hours after they came out into the open, police spotted Diaz and De la Maza in downtown Ciudad Trujillo. Diaz was machine-gunned to death and Maza died of wounds soon afterward in a military hospital.

The other two, Salvador Estrella and Luis Caceres Michel, gave themselves up voluntarily.

Royal Operation Is Explained to E. Palestine Club

EAST PALESTINE — Fred C. Henderson, vice president of the Royal China Co. of Sebring, was guest speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon Monday in the Covenant United Presbyterian Church.

He gave a brief history of the Royal firm, founded 27 years ago, and explained their lease arrangement at the W. S. George Pottery Co. here. He reported that the company is engaged in installing $250,000 worth of new equipment.

Production in the clay shop will be started within the next 10 days, he announced.

Mr. Henderson told that the local plant will produce ware for the A & P stores, and it will be shipped in units rather than sets. The firm uses a printing - type operation rather than the decal process.

A 1929 graduate of Ohio State University as a ceramic engineer, Mr. Henderson was formerly employed by the Hall China Co. in East Liverpool. He went to Royal in 1942 and was made vice president in 1957. He has been supervising the start of operations at the local plant.

Shepard Says Vision Fogged

Astronaut Tells of Rocket Vibrations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Astronaut Alan Shepard disclosed today that rocket vibration fogged his vision briefly in the early part of his historic 15-minute space flight a month ago. But he said just about everything else went well.

Shepard said that as the result of his difficulty, some changes have been ordered in the Mercury capsule design to reduce vibration during the crucial moments just after launching.

Shepard made the observation in a paper prepared for delivery to 300 physicians and research scientists at a conference on the medical results of the first U.S. manned suborbital space flight last May 5. He rocketed to an altitude of 116.5 miles before landing in the ocean 302 miles from the Cape Canaveral, Fla., launching site.

Shepard said the roughest part of the flight came as the rocket accelerated through the speed of sound and then passed through the point of maximum dynamic pressure. That was the point at which the Redstone rocket and the capsule it carried were subjected to the most severe combination of acceleration forces and atmosphere resistance.

"These events occurred very close together on the flight, and there was general vibration associated with them," Shepard said.

"At one point my head vibration was such that my vision was blurred for a few seconds.

"We intend to avoid a recurrence of this experience by providing more foam rubber for the head support and improving the space craft adapter ring."

Shepard said he had no other difficulty during the powered flight and found no problem in breathing, seeing, or reporting to the ground.

Shepard added that:

1. The water landing was no more severe than the catapulting of a plane from a carrier deck.
2. The so-called debriefing conducted during his two-day stay at Grand Bahama Island, after the flight, was useful and will be profitable for future flights.
3. The five minutes of weightlessness was similar to floating and did not affect movements, speech or breathing.
4. The capsule periscope not only was a good device for viewing the sky and earth, but also was a "backup" aid for navigation and for monitoring the opening of the parachutes on the descent.

6 Children Killed In Missouri Blaze

PORTAGEVILLE, Mo. (AP) — Six children perished in a fire which destroyed their home Monday night. Another child was critically burned.

The mother, Jesse Mae Forest, was treated for shock. She rushed from the blazing house barefooted and in her nightgown. A neighbor, Jimmy Davis, and another man, Van Adams, rescued one child, Michael Forest, 9, who was rushed to a hospital with burns over 60 per cent of his body.

The flames blocked further rescue work. The house was destroyed.

The dead children ranged in age from 1 to 10. They were Aaron 10, Don 7, Ema Mae 6, Kayseen 5, Robbis 1, and Jennett 2.

The Forests are Negroes.

The two courts had 779 cases pending May 1, with 89 more cases filed, making them a total of 868. During the month they disposed of 66 cases leaving 802 cases pending June 1.

Twenty-one cases were tried by the judges; nine were tried by jury; 19 were cognovit and default judgments and 17 were settled and dismissed.

The number of Court of Appeals cases remained the same, with four still pending. The court disposed of one case, and another one was filed.

'Peasant' Philosophy

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Sophia Loren has a two-word recipe for avoiding nervous tension: "Please yourself."

The onetime waif of Naples in less than a decade worked her way up from modeling to become one of the world's busiest as well as most beautiful actresses.

Sophia took me to lunch the other day during a break in the task of dubbing in English dialogue for her 30th film.

"I have the philosophy of a peasant," she said. "Take it easy—everything is going to be all right."

Lunching with Miss Loren is more of a treat than going to see her in a movie.

Sophia showed up in a pink sheath dress. Her enormous green eyes, flecked with gold, gave her a strange look—as if she were half-panther, half-gazelle.

Gazing out a 48th floor window at all the new buildings rising in mid-Manhattan she exclaimed:

"It must get tired—holding up so many, many tall buildings. Aren't you afraid some day it will all sink?"

Waiters fluttered up, cooing solicitously in several languages. "I love to eat," said Sophia.

"It's my only pleasure while working. I like any food that is spicy and full of sauce."

Chattering charmingly, she went from an aperitif through a small plate of sliced tongue and ham, a dish of kidney stew, potatoes and vegetables, two glasses of red wine, two bread rolls, then wound up with a big slice of cake topped with whipped cream.

She is a tall girl with a lot of lovely body to fuel, and so far she doesn't have to worry about gaining weight. It's a real pleasure to eat with a woman like that—particularly if you go as a guest.

"There are some people who add up their calories as they eat," she murmured. "I prefer to add up the number of dishes."

Sophia doesn't feel that success has changed her much since the childhood days when she felt herself to be a thin and gawky ugly duckling. She is poised, friendly, and completely self-possessed.

"I'm very strong. I have always tried to keep myself as naive and innocent as possible," she said.

"But I like to work hard, and don't believe in drifting. I never liked to be taken by the routine of life—or to become tense and nervous."

"It is a hard thing to do, but I try to look at things in a relaxed way."

"I think you get tense only by doing things you don't really want to do. So I please myself. I do only the things that please and interest me. Why not? When I get tired, I'll stop."

OAS To Send Commission To Dominica

WASHINGTON (AP) — A five-nation special commission is expected to leave Thursday to determine whether the Dominican Republic is moving toward more freedom for its people or toward an even tighter dictatorship.

A seven-nation committee of the Organization of American States voted Monday to send the commission to investigate conditions in the Caribbean country following the assassination last week of dictator Rafael Trujillo.

The unanimous acceptance of a U.S. request for the investigation came after Dominican Foreign Minister Profrío Herrera Baez said his country would welcome the special mission.

The decision marked the first victory in an inter-American agency for the administration of President Kennedy. The United States had strong support in the proposal from other American republics but the initiative clearly came from Washington.

The OAS last August at San Jose, Costa Rica, charged that the Trujillo government plotted an assassination attempt on President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela and voted that all American republics should break diplomatic relations with the Trujillo regime.

A special committee sent to the Dominican Republic last year to conduct an investigation was not permitted to travel freely and conduct its business.

OAS officials said it appeared probable the special five-nation commission would depart Thursday morning from New York. Its members are Panama, the United States, Argentina, Mexico and Uruguay.

Human Nature On Our Side

Nikita Khrushchev was all smiles in Vienna for his first meeting with John Kennedy.

Premier Khrushchev has not been cast by political events in the role of a smiling man. His political regime in the Soviet Union and the Communist Conspiracy in which he is a central figure are no background for happiness.

All manifestations of good will and good cheer that ruling members of the Communist hierarchy stage for cameras and reporters are rigged and contrived. There is no good will in them, nor is there any good cheer.

Everywhere they have asserted their domination over humanity and made it subordinate to the state the faces of the people have turned cheerless. Cities have grown gloom. Fear has barred friendship.

There has been a deliberate and malicious twisting of human nature, to distort it into something it never appears to be in its natural form. The Russian people after a generation of authoritarian rule and mistrust of one another continue to be friendlier and happier than their government gives them any right to be.

THERE IS ONE chance in a hundred, perhaps a thousand, that anything of importance will come out of the Vienna meeting. President Kennedy will not be criticized for returning empty-handed when he finishes his round of duty calls on European statesmen, because it is plain to see that it was at the time of any previous encounters that the principal spokesmen for the United States and the Soviet Union have no issues they can compromise and none they dare to abandon.

For the time being the Soviet Union holds the initiative. The United States has sustained a severe setback in the New World and may be on the brink of rough going in the Old World. This is only one continuous source of comfort for Americans. It is this:

Everything about authoritarian rule has been known and condemned for centuries. History is the record of governments that have ruled people by harsh decrees until the people, themselves, finally had to prove to their rulers that they were not willing to be ruled by despotism any longer.

THERE HAS BEEN only one great departure from authoritarian government. It was made in the United States, and it is still the newest, freshest idea in human affairs—the attraction that makes the United States the most envied of all nations.

It is a revolutionary American concept that says politicians exist to serve the people and governments should answer to the populations that support them.

Every U.S. spokesman in an international negotiation carries this thought with him at all times; it is his constant background.

It gives him assurance that human nature is on his side and that time ultimately will militate against governments built on the premise that people exist to carry out the purposes of politicians.

President Kennedy had more to smile about than Premier Khrushchev had at Vienna, though it was America's young president who looked solemn.

Violence Has No End

It isn't going to be easy to put an end to the blood bath that will purge the Dominican Republic of guilt for the assassination of its dictator. Rafael Trujillo's avengers, the heirs to his power, will have no choice but to outdo the ruthlessness of the people who ended his reign of terror.

This has been the tragedy of Latin American violence: it has no end. Each successor to a fallen dictator must shoot and claw his way to power, leaving enough irreconcilable enemies to make it certain they some day will destroy him.

It has been pointed out by everyone familiar with the way Trujillo preserved his power that he made so many implacable enemies no one could be sure which particular enemy finally would destroy him. In days to come, it will be tempting for the heirs to his dictatorship to destroy everybody in sight who might become troublesome.

Trujillo has been responsible for so many murders in the course of maintaining his power that no one could be sure of the total. But when he rounded up the people he suspected of plotting to kill him a year ago last January there still were upward of 2,000 prime suspects on his list.

This is the unlikely background for pious hopes that the Dominican Republic may now become a mild and mannerly republic, with everything done according to political science textbooks.

Violence begets violence. It has no end. It will have no end in the Dominican Republic. If the Dominicans run out of violence themselves there are nearby Cubans willing to forment more, in the hope of substituting a red flag for the personal banner of Rafael Trujillo that finally was shot down after 30 years of bloodshed.

Best of the All-Americans

There is reliable word from the academic quarter that more attention is being paid to success in the pursuit of learning than was paid in most places before the United States made the GREAT DISCOVERY.

That was, of course, the realization that the ultimate competition in the modern world was going to be intellectual, not physical. It was like learning that an all-American football player was pitted against a Phi Beta Kappa in a no-holds-barred for a PhD.

America is trying to upgrade itself academically. It is hoping to develop enough intelligence to hold up its end in the 20th century battle for men's minds. For the first time in its history it is aware of something that never concerned it before. The future belongs to scholars, scientists, original thinkers and intellectuals in general—and America is afraid of being caught short.

The best of the all-Americans today are the young men and women graduating at the top of their classes and planning to proceed further with the development of their minds. It is the fervent hope of everybody who understands what education needs that many of these will become teachers and thus be plowed back into the field of education that produced them.

More attention is being paid to scholars than was the case a few years ago. It does not mean the athletes won't continue to bask in their special kind of glory; only that scholars, too, now have a glory all their own—the glory of having become the hope of America and the kind of world America cherishes.

Not Immune

It is natural and proper for United States legislators to concern themselves with crime in Washington, since Congress governs the District of Columbia.

But in some of the talk, the notion pops up that such crime is an especial sin, that the capital should be a showcase relatively free of this evil.

The fact is Washington is not and cannot be an insulated city. It is subject to the same social and economic forces which make crime a mounting menace everywhere.

When those forces are somehow dealt with the nation over, then perhaps Washington will be the showcase we would like it to be.

Once Over

Fathers of Year get named in wrong categories. Really deserving ones don't even get honorable mention. How come movie actors, TV stars and Adlai Stevenson are named Fathers of the Year when no bricklayer, housepainter, well-driller, short-order cook or steel riveter gets recognition, even if he has dozen kids, with wife expecting twins?

WE HEREBY NOMINATE following Genuine Fathers of Year:

Jason Booplemeyer, baseball park tarpaulin handler. Has nine kids, doesn't get much money, has to work nights, spends much of life wet to skin and exhausted from dragging tarpaulin over the diamond, rolling it up again, and giving repeat performances. He gets home half drowned and completely exhausted. Yet he has never chased kid out of house for greeting him with, "Have a nice time at the ball game popper?"

Gregory Fishwick, information booth man at railroad terminal. Gregory's pay is modest, but he is such a slave to monotonous routines that when the kiddies ask "Popper, when will you help us with our homework?" he grunts "Nine-forty two, track eleven" or asks "You mean daylight saving or standard time?"

Artemus Finchbeck, circus animal trainer. Finchbeck spends most of time in cage with lions and tigers. He gets fairly well clawed up. He has eleven kids, all under 12 years of age. When he gets home between mailings and wants a few days to relax, the wife and kids pipe "Aw, you never want to do anything for excitement."

Desmond Q. Poopsey, skyscraper window washer. Is 48 years old, subject to dizzy spells but keeps on job as high as 42 stories above street to support wife, his mother-in-law, seven boys and four girls and a great Dane dog. Shows no anger when he hears children crack, "Trouble with him is he just wants to loaf around the house instead of living dangerously!"

ADLAI STEVENSON is making trip to bring unity in South American countries. We look for papers to say, "He ate a hearty meal, said he was ready and forgave everybody."

Raymond Burr (Perry Mason) has won a new contract and will continue TV show. Nevertheless it is the district attorney who suffers so much on this program that he deserves greater incentives.

Jets now make New York to Paris in little more than three hours. The trip is becoming merely a means of killing a little time during a coffee break.

Folks who saved money for a rainy day must have gone broke during the 1961 spring weather.

Washington is protesting charges as high as $350 a day for testimony by psychiatrists. Why? In most cases it is merely the down payment.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Unless Fidel Castro is castigated and shamed by the world — especially the Latin American world — it will take almost a year to free the Cuban freedom fighters. For it is not only a matter of raising millions of dollars. Physically raising the tractors from the metal molds to finished mountain-moving machines will take far longer. Labor leaders and industrial experts have just told me that there are none in stock. Normally it takes a year to produce two of the kind Castro told his 10 messengers to tell the Tractors for Freedom Committee he really wants.

Victor Riesel

Leaders of the 75,000 agricultural implement workers, who are members of Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers, and officials of the four companies producing parts and custom building the huge "bulldozers" believe they can work this up to four and possibly six a day. But only after a while.

This means the 1214 Freedom Fighters who were captured when they hit the swampy beach may be in Soviet-style slave brigades at almost lethal hard labor for anywhere from six months to a year.

MRS. ROOSEVELT, one of the original tractors committee — now being raised to 50 prominent leaders — was wrong when she said the other day that all 500 tractors are available. She was referring to the smaller agricultural type.

They are, of course, sitting bumper to bumper in reserve storage sites.

But the giants Castro seeks must be ordered. He will take only new ones. Thus, at the rate of two a day, the entire lot cannot be produced in less than 250 working days — a full year, in effect.

Even if the plants, the Caterpillar Co., the International Harvester Co., the Allis-Chalmers Co. and the John Deere Co., go on extra shifts it will certainly absorb from six to nine months after Castro tells the labor-industrial band of U.S. experts exactly what he wants.

One of these specialists is auto union vice president Pat Great-house, leader of the Agricultural implement section.

Apparently Walter Reuther will not win one of his demands from Castro. This is an installment release of prisoners as each tractor is delivered. Evidence of this was seen in a detailed analysis by this column of Castro's first "worm" speech on May 17.

REFERRING to the prisoners he said:

"Let them be exchanged for bulldozers... of course, we will not exchange them one by one. No, no..."

What now worries committee members, and such groups as the International Rescue Committee led by Leo Cherne is what will happen to the families of the Freedom Fighters. There are at least 2,000 of their women, children and sick dependents. Some of these are now widows and orphans, of course.

They are not yet starving, but there is danger they will be lost as was the invasion.

This means the families of the Freedom Fighters may starve or live on the charity of their proud countrymen, already living on charity. At least many of the 100,000 Cuban refugees (according to the International Rescue Committee figures) have their men folk and can earn a few dollars. For the widows and orphans there will be no returning men.

And what of those who must wait six months to a year for the return of those who went out to fight for all of us on a swampy, night-shrouded beach?

Sad Hour For Liberty

Writer Says JFK Kowtowed To Khrushchev

President Kennedy got what he wanted — international attention, political publicity at home and a firsthand study of the personality of the world's most powerful dictator. Soviet Premier Khrushchev got what he wanted — world-wide attention as the man who holds the fate of many nations, publicity at home as the champion of the alleged superiority of communism over capitalism and a chance to size up the new President of the United States. But did the meeting advance the cause of peace?

There was no armistice declared in the "cold war." Even as the two leaders conferred, Communist-inspired commanders in Laos were violating the "cease fire" and Communist agents were active in Cuba, in fact, in countries on every continent they were continuing to spread subversion and instigate depredations of friction between factions and races.

What has the Soviet premier to fear from such conferences? It is he who holds the trump cards and can make the decision to strike "the first blow." He deals from strength against a western alliance weakened by conflicting purposes of the leaders and also by the steady erosion of the spirit of resistance.

Was the Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting worthwhile? It could result in more harm than good for the West in world affairs. For Khrushchev is revealed as the man of strength, while the western leadership is portrayed both by the Communist press and by newspapers in "neutral" countries as cringing and fawning.

ABOUT THE ONLY gain that can be chalked up now for Mr. Kennedy is on the political side within the United States. He had been regarded as youthful, inexperienced, immature, if not brash and perhaps impulsive. It was important from his standpoint to dispel such impressions.

What better way than in a "summit" conference in which no other western leader participated and in which Mr. Kennedy was pictured before the voters of his own country—through television and the newspapers—as the sole spokesman of the free world?

Time was when a "summit" conference included the prime minister of Great Britain and the president or prime minister of France—and when the chancellor of West Germany was nearby to be consulted.

But this meeting of two heads of state was billed as a "get-acquainted affair." The other western leaders politely stood aside. It was regarded officially — perhaps with tongue in cheek — as having no "agenda" and as not a "negotiation."

The spectacle of one man talking for the West—and, indeed, during certain periods of the conference Messrs. Kennedy and Khrushchev were alone, except for interpreters—is alien to the tradition of democracy.

Theoretically, a congress or a parliament or even a secretary of state plays a part in the making of important agreements or in the conduct of negotiations between governments, including commitments in the development of international policy.

It all seemed more like the historic meetings at Vienna, Paris and London between monarchs of old. There was the same pomp and ceremony, the same outward evidences of cordiality, the same misleading impressions that "peace" reigned supreme even at both sides reiterated through their spokesmen at lower levels a determination not to yield an inch in their respective positions.

WHAT CAN BE accomplished this way that cannot be achieved as well, if not better, through the normal channels of diplomacy? At least there would be written records then of what is said by governments to each other, and such records can be important in carrying on future negotiations.

These are public, not private controversies. They concern millions of human beings and not just two governmental figures preoccupied to no small extent with their own political fortunes.

The total impression left on many people by the latest "summit" conference is that a president of the United States went 4,000 miles across sea and land to kowtow to a man who, by his policies and acts, despoils human freedom and maintains the biggest slave empire in the world.

Enough courage is mustered up to issue statements defying little dictators like Castro and Trujillo, but not a big Khrushchev. It is a sad hour for the cause of liberty and democracy.

Nothing Accidental

By TRUMAN TWILL

I keep hearing a comment about skirmishes over bus depot segregation in the South that goes like this:

"If those people don't want trouble with segregationists they should quit going out of their way to make them mad."

This refers to the fact that those who have been "going out of their way" rode buses from town to town to test local reactions in waiting rooms and lunch rooms in bus stations. It was inevitable that these "Freedom Riders," as they called themselves, would run into trouble.

And the kind of trouble they ran into is being referred to in the remark that if they don't want trouble they shouldn't ask for it.

This seems to me to be the most important thing to understand about this troublesome issue.

Negroes in the United States have decided in many instances to seek trouble, instead of sidestepping it. Many of them feel that after 100 years of avoiding trouble and hoping for the fruition of their constitutional elevation to first-class citizenship, they have run out of time for patience.

By seeking trouble with such devices as the "Freedom Riders," they are able to shift responsibility to their opposition. It is as if they were making a deliberate test of the civil rights guarantees in the Constitution, knowing in advance that the outcome would be a headache for practitioners of segregation. They are putting their opponents on the spot.

There is nothing accidental about the results. The trouble they seek is forthcoming. No one knows what will happen in the time ahead, but in the recent past the trouble-seekers have put practitioners of segregation on the defensive in a touchy place.

From the Files

10 YEARS AGO — Mrs. Carrie B. Turner of Columbus is spending the week with Mrs. Lillie Chappell Wolgamuth of E. State St.

25 YEARS AGO — Miss Lela Vincent of Cleveland was a recent visitor of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee B. Vincent of Prospect St.

35 YEARS AGO — Betty Lee Kenneweg has enrolled in the Billy Ehrhardt dancing school.

Many people are uncertain about integration in southern schools and even the U.S. Supreme Court has said there's no hurry about it; that token integration is satisfactory. But no one has been uncertain about integration in interstate transportation, or its associated facilities, such as waiting rooms and lunch counters. This is clearly in the federal government's authority over interstate commerce.

Negroes who have realized this and acted on it have trapped the segregationists into a move they cannot support by law.

Segregationists lawyers in the South are ingenious at finding new "outs" for their clients, but they will have to advise the politicians this time that no law and no torturing of law can make the look good.

That's why it is important to realize the "Freedom Riders." There's nothing accidental about it. No one should feel sorry because some of them were beaten up by mobs. And no one should criticize them for getting into trouble. They were looking for trouble. They knew what they were doing.

It is not an unprecedented thing to do. Certain early Americans went looking for trouble in Massachusetts a number of years ago and found it. The historic date of the finding was April 19, 1775, when Minutemen drew the fire of British regulars, and there, and later at Concord, trapped Britain's irreconcilables into a showdown they couldn't win.

It would have been ridiculously easy for American dissenters in 1775 to have averted trouble indefinitely by refusing to look for it. But it wasn't their mood. That is what we need most to understand about the mood of many Negroes today. They are not trying to avoid trouble.

There's nothing accidental about the results. The trouble they seek is forthcoming. No one knows what will happen in the time ahead, but in the recent past the trouble-seekers have put practitioners of segregation on the defensive in a touchy place.

City Charter Commission Still At Work

Last night was the target date the Salem Charter Commission had set for itself to have a rough draft of the city charter completed, but indications are that the Commission still has a long way to go before such a draft is ready.

At its meeting last night, the Commission continued discussion on reports prepared by Harold Asty on municipal commissions and boards; by John Herman, Jr. on health and recreation; and by Carl Abe on municipal powers pertaining to governmental, co-operative and proprietary functions in reference to purchases, contracts and advertising.

Considerable time was spent discussing the setting up of unclassified and classified jobs under civil service.

A lively session is expected at the Commission's next meeting on Monday night when a discussion will be held on the subject of whether the police and fire chief should be appointive positions or whether they should be kept under civil service as is the case in Salem now.

Atty. Lozier Caplan, Commission chairman, reminds the public that Charter Commission meetings are open and he urges anyone interested in city government to attend the sessions which are held every Monday at 7:30 p.m. at City Hall.

Charter Commission members absent from last night's meeting were John Herman, Jr., Bryce Kendall, Michael Schuller and Mrs. Eve Farrington.

Stevenson Heads For Argentina

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson heads for Argentina today after a 48-hour visit to Venezuela's capital, first stop on his presidential mission to Latin America.

Although no agreements were sought on concrete problems, Stevenson made known he was pleased with the results.

For one thing, he was reported reassured by President Romulo Betancourt's continued firm stand against dictatorships in Latin America, of both the left and right complexion.

The chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations also was gratified by the warm personal reception he received in the city which displayed violently anti-U.S. feelings to Vice President Richard M. Nixon three years ago.

Stevenson will see Argentine President Arturo Frondizi Wednesday. No special difficulties are anticipated in Argentina since relations between the United States and the Frondizi government are extremely cordial.

Blaze Cripples

Massachusetts City

AYER, Mass. (AP)—Town officials and businessmen met today to assess the future in the wake of a devastating fire which destroyed two industrial plants and 10 dwellings with an unofficial loss estimated at $6 million.

In smoldering ruins after Monday night's fire were the town's largest employer, Hartnett Tanning Co., and the International Purchasing Co., a rope-making firm, along with the dwellings of some 40 persons.

The disastrous fire raged along a quarter-mile front, devouring all buildings in its path. A 20-mile-an-hour wind whipped the flames which firefighters battled for more than four hours.

Heavy smoke felled 25 persons. Another 10 persons suffered minor injuries.

Loss of the tannery was a particularly hard blow to this central Massachusetts town of 15,000. The plant, which employs about 400, is the town's main industry and has distributed over $2 million in bonuses annually.

Senators Victims Of Hitting Hurlers

3 Indian Pitchers Blast 4 Hits; Romano Stretches Streak to 20

WASHINGTON (AP)—Who says the No. 9 man in the batting order can't hit? Sure, he gets to pitch, but it's nice when he can swing that bat, too.

Three Cleveland hurlers went on a hitting binge Monday night as the Indians whipped Washington 7-5 for their seventh straight victory and closed the gap on league-leading Detroit to one game.

Johnny Antonelli, Bobby Locke and Barry Latman rapped out four hits in four at bats—a double, triple and two singles. The pitching trio drove in three runs, including the deciding tally, and scored two more.

Piersall Hikes Average to .368
Jim Piersall led the Indians' 15-hit attack with four hits and raised his batting average to .368. John Romano stretched his hitting streak to 20 games with a double, but left the game with a slight foot injury.

Latman hurled four scoreless innings after both Antonelli and Locke blew leads. Latman won his fourth without a loss as he limited the Senators to two hits.

It was Latman who drove home the deciding marker in the seventh inning. The score was 5-5 with two out when Bubba Phillips got aboard as third baseman Harry Bright booted his grounder. Then Latman whacked a triple to right-center as Jim King slipped in pursuit. Johnny Temple's single scored Latman.

Antonelli Fails As Starter
Antonelli (0-4) failed once again after Cleveland staked him to a 3-0 lead in the second inning. Woodie Held tripled and scored on Phillips' bloop single. Antonelli singled and Piersall drilled a three-bagger into the right-center alley for two runs.

The Senators tallied a pair in the second when Danny O'Connell delivered a single with the bases loaded. They tied the count in the third on Dale Long's single and a double by Bright.

So after giving up three runs and five hits in three innings, Antonelli took a shower and Locke was on the mound at the start of the fourth.

Clutch Hit By Locke
Manager Jimmie Dykes let Locke bat with the bases loaded and two out in the fifth, and the pitcher came through with a line single to right, scoring two runs.

But Locke didn't have it on the mound, surrendering four hits in the fifth inning when Washington tied the score at 5-5. A triple by Long and run-scoring singles by Bright and pinch-hitter Gene Woodling were the key blows.

Gary Bell (3-4) goes against the Senators' rookie hotshot, Joe McClain (5-3) tonight.

Salem Board Delays Cage Loop Vote

Members of the Athletic Board for Salem Schools met last night to discuss the possibility of the Quakers joining a proposed basketball league with other eastern Ohio schools but they postponed their final decision until a later meeting.

Athletic Director Fred Cope reports that the board members showed a great deal of interest in the league but they decided it would be best to delay a final decision until the league constitution is completed and more details are made clear.

The constitution is to be completed this week and presented at a meeting of the nine schools involved here Thursday night at the Lane Hotel.

Prospective teams in the league are Alliance, Canton McKinley, East Liverpool, Massillon, Niles, Steubenville, Warren Harding, Cuyahoga Falls and Salem.

Nine of these schools has definitely committed itself to joining the league but all have spoken favorably about taking part in such a loop.

Deadline for entering the league has been set as August 1.

Stepanic's Wins on Forfeit

I-M Rallies To Whip Shaffer Ford, 7-3

Both Industrial Mining and Stepanic's Tavern survived last night's action at Kelley Park in the Class AA softball league to remain atop the standings with 3-0 records.

Industrial Mining whipped winless Shaffer Ford 7-3 and Stepanic's won by forfeit from Heron Transfer. In the other Class AA game played last night, Old Dutch copped its second victory in three starts by edging Deming Co. 5-4. The Pumpers have dropped three of their four games this season.

IN A LONE Class A tilt, Lincoln Machine snapped a two-game losing streak and chalked up its fourth victory of the year by beating Shaffer Ford 7-3. Four of the five runs in that frame were unearned. Besides taking advantage of an error in the outfield, the Lisbon outfit got timely singles on the big inning off the bats of King, Porter and McMasters.

Jack Bruderly and Ferguson collected two hits apiece for Shaffer Ford.

DEMING'S RALLIED for three runs in the bottom of the seventh but missed by one run of tying Old Dutch who survived with a 5-4 victory. Old Dutch had jumped off to a 2-1 lead in the first inning, then added three more tallies in the top of the seventh to grab a 5-1 advantage before Deming's broke loose in their half of the seventh.

Jim Weizenacker rapped out two singles for Old Dutch, including a clutch blow in the seventh. Roesti, Don Mercer and Klan also rapped singles in Old Dutch's seventh-inning uprising.

Deming's scored their three runs in the seventh on three walks and singles by Beiling and Arsuifi.

LINCOLN MACHINE was out-hit 8-6 by Bliss but managed to come out on the long end of a 7-3 score. Lincoln shoved across all the runs it needed when four runners crossed the plate in the second inning. Bill Crookston accounted for two of Lincoln's six hits. Maag and Dowd had two hits apiece for the losers.

VALIANT'S HOT ...but not too hot to handle!

(about $42 a month will do it)

Based on Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price for Model V-100 2-door Sedan and average local carrying charges for 36 months, after 1½ down. Transportation and taxes (local and state) extra. Terms may vary slightly with individual dealer's pricing policies.

We're having a tough time trying to convince people that Valiant doesn't cost a lot more than other compacts—that the prices start $100 less than last year. The problem is, Valiant looks like it should cost more—it's got classic lines that ignore the look-alike cars. Valiant acts like it should cost more, too—with 101 horses and expensive Chrysler Corporation advancements like Unibody construction, Torsion-Aire suspension, and an Alternator. Please, stop guessing about Valiant's price! We'll show you how easy it is to handle a new Valiant...and we'll show you with pencil and paper! Like today?

Tigers Lose, Yanks Cop Pair

Bucs Trim Dodgers; Cincy Regains First Place in NL

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
The Pittsburgh Pirates, with Vern Law winning his first in more than a month, defeated Los Angeles 5-2 and knocked the Dodgers out of the National League lead Monday night. Cincinnati regained first place, by a half game, with a 5-3 victory over Milwaukee.

Last place Philadelphia dropped San Francisco to third, 3-2, and St. Louis out-slugged the Chicago Cubs 10-8.

Yanks Down Twins Twice

In the American League, Chicago's White Sox defeated Detroit 8-0, shaving the Tigers' lead to one game over the second-place Cleveland Indians, who won their seventh in a row with a 7-5 decision at Washington. New York took two from Minnesota, 6-1 and 6-2; the Los Angeles Angels beat Baltimore 3-0, and Kansas City split a doubleheader at Boston, winning 10-6 after the Red Sox won the opener 6-2.

Law, bothered by a sore shoulder and home runs, avoided both troubles at Los Angeles. He gave up eight hits and blew a 2-0 lead, but then singled home the tie-breaker in the sixth against losing reliever Ron Perranoski (3-1) before giving way to a pinch-hitter. Elroy Face then saved it, with two-innings of one-hit, shut-out relief. Bill Mazeroski and Smoky Burgess homered for the Pirates, who collected 13 hits.

Reds Beat Burdette

The Reds came from behind and beat Lew Burdette (4-5) with a three-run eighth inning on homers by Frank Robinson and Jerry Lynch. Robinson singled and Lynch doubled as they scored Cincinnati's first two in the second inning on a single by Gordie Coleman after the Braves had counted three in the first on home runs by Ed Mathews and Joe Adcock. Joey Jay, a former Brave, worked the first seven innings, blanking Milwaukee on one hit over the last six. Jim Brosnan (2-1) then won it in relief, with help from Bill Henry in the ninth.

A six-run seventh inning, triggered by Carl Sawatski's two-run homer and capped by Bill White's grand slam, brought the Cardinals from behind. Maury McDermott, gaining his first NL decision, was the winner in relief. Ed Bouchee and Ernie Banks homered for the Cubs. The losing pitcher was reliever Joe Schaffernoth (0-3).

Robin Roberts, who had lost his first seven decisions, beat the Giants with a six-hit job. Chuck Hiller hit a two-run homer, for San Francisco in the second inning, but then put the tying run on base with an error ahead of Pancho Herrera's winning three-run homer in the third. Mike McCormick (5-5) was the loser, dropping his third in a row.

Questions—Answers

Q—What is the distinction between "having the floor" and having the "privilege of the floor" in the House of Representatives?

A—"Privilege of the floor" means privilege of being in the chamber while the House is in session. Only a member recognized by the speaker "has the floor."

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Salk Vaccine, Best Polio Protection

Dr. H. T. Hyman

To offset these poor excuses for neglecting to secure available protection, a Committee on Polio-virus Vaccines reviewed the accumulated experiences with Salk vaccine in the United States and other countries and arrived at the following heartening conclusions:

WHEN THREE or more doses of Salk vaccine are given, at least 80 per cent of the vaccinated obtain protection.

With a single exception, recent outbreaks have occurred only in the unvaccinated.

The ability of the vaccine to protect has risen steadily for the past two years. The relatively unsatisfactory results of earlier vaccines, on which critics dwell, need no longer be considered.

Effectiveness similar to that reported in the U. S. has been observed also by the World Health Organization whose estimate of protection varies between 75 and 95 per cent in other major countries served by U.N.

"Salk vaccine is now well established as one of the most effective vaccines of any kind presently available.

"There is every reason for and no reason against every unvaccinated person being vaccinated with Salk vaccine, especially those under 40 years of age.

TO WHICH I WOULD ADD, if you love your children, don't let the sun set on another day until you secure for them the protection that Salk vaccine affords.

If you, for whatever reason, oppose vaccination, don't let innocent youngsters suffer for your misinformation or neglect.

Lisbon Social Notes

A tour of the remaining six covered bridges in Columbiana County was held over the week-end, with 15 cars bearing 43 persons in the caravan on Saturday and 13 cars and 42 persons making the trip Sunday.

The tour was planned by Tom Maione of Homeworth who makes a hobby of collecting information and pictures of covered bridges.

The trip was sponsored by the Northern Ohio Chapter of the National Society for the Preservation of Covered Bridges.

A picnic lunch was enjoyed at Morgan's Monument Park on Rt. 318.

In addition to those from cities and villages of the county taking the trip, representatives from many other cities rode along.

MEMBERS OF THE Wednesday Evening Discussion Group and their families enjoyed their annual cook-out breakfast Sunday morning at Willow Grove Park, with 35 present. Mrs. John Halverstadt, Mrs. Jack Rutter and Charles McKenzie were the cooks.

Mr. McKenzie later conducted a devotional period. Stanley Kienle spoke briefly as the retiring president, and Mrs. Charles Pike, the newly elected president, took over the business and announced her committees.
